Dr. Patrice Moorer Appointed Assistant Vice President of Academic Affairs

I am pleased to announce the appointment of Dr. Patrice Moorer as Assistant Vice President of Academic Affairs, beginning on August 8, 2023. Dr. Moorer first joined the University in 2013 as the inaugural Director of Student Retention Initiatives. She is currently the Assistant Dean in the Hal Marcus College of Science and Engineering, a role she has served in since 2015.

Dr. Moorer will oversee the university's efforts to ensure institutional success on Performance-Based Funding Metrics. Among her responsibilities will be to focus on student retention and graduation efforts, particularly from the student perspective, and identifying challenges and best practices for success among key cohorts of students.

Dr. Moorer has an outstanding reputation across campus in her work with student success initiatives and I am excited for her to join the Provost's Office to help ensure those initiatives are deployed campus-wide. Please join me in welcoming Dr. Moorer to her new role and next chapter here at UWF.
