

Geographic Information Science Undergraduate Certificate

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the undergraduate certificate in Geographic Information Science Graduate Certificate, the graduate will be able to do the following:

1. Design maps that are fit-for-purpose and effectively convey the information they are intended to by following fundamental cartographic principles
2. Demonstrate proficiency of techniques for spatial data analysis.
3. Effectively communicate processes and solutions to the public or intended audience using various outlets and tools

Find out more about a Geographic Information Science Certificate at UWF:

<https://uwf.edu/hmcse/departments/earth-and-environmental-sciences/>