

Privacy Policy

We are committed to protecting your privacy when you visit our Web sites. We reserve the right to append or modify this Privacy Statement at any time; we ask that you revisit our Privacy Statement to check for updates or changes. In order to enhance our site to meet our visitors needs we collect various types of information through cookies and information gathered through the submission forms.

The information that you voluntarily provide us...

We collect information that you voluntarily provide to us when you fill out an information request for one of the programs featured on any of our sites. This site provides users the opportunity to request information for the University of West Florida's Office of Applied Behavior Analysis. The contact information provided by the participant is used only by us for e-mail communication about your program of interest.

We do not sell or rent your personal information...

We do not sell or rent any personal data submitted by visitors to any of our Web sites to any third parties. We abide by all applicable laws concerning the release of your personal information. Occasionally, we may use the information that we have collected to send you information about services, and updated information that might interest you. At times we may share this information with the University of West Florida to forward similar information to you. We respect your wishes. If you tell us that you do not want to have this information used as a basis for further contact then you will not receive any further information. If you do not want to receive our e-mail marketing, please submit a request to have your e-mail address removed at the following e-mail address: aba@uwf.edu

We will not share personal information with outside parties...

We will not share your personal information with anyone else, except as required by law. We may share comprehensive data about our viewers with our affiliates, advertisers, sponsors, institutional partners and other third parties.
