Questions for Discussion:

- How well does your assessment method align with your educational practices and curricular design?
- What inferences can you draw about students' learning from each selected method of assessment?
- Can this method of assessment be used for both formative and summative assessment to gauge how well students have made progress?

Schedule for Formative and Summative Assessment: Use the following worksheet to develop a timetable to assess students' learning along the continuum of their studies.

List each outcome you will assess	Formative Assessment Schedule (for example, after each course; after certain number of credits or sequences of courses or educational experiences?)	Summative Assessment Schedule
